CURE OF MENOUS DISEASE.

No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the diseased, debilitated, and shattered nervous system. Whether broken down by sickness, the unstrung and relaxed organization is at once rebraced, revivined and built up. The mental and physical symptoms of nervous disease vanish together under its influence. The stooping, trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new man—he stands creet; he moves with a firm step; has mind, which was previously sunk in gloom, or an almost idiotic apathy, becomes bright, buoyant, active, and he goes forth refreshed, regenerated, and conscious of new vigor, to his accustomed occupations. Nor is the effect temporary, on the contrary, the relief is permanent, for the cordial properties of the medicine reach the constitution itself, and restore it to its normal condition. On the contrary, the relief is permanent, for the cordinal properties of the medicine reach the constitution itself, and restore it to its normal condition. Well may the properation be called the MEDICINAL WONDER of the nineteenth century. It is, as the first scientific men in the Old World have admitted, that miracle of medicine keretofore supposed to have no existence.

A STINULANT HEM ENTALIS NO REMOTION.

It is the only infallible remedy yet discovered for nervous head and mind complaints; it is the mental physic, long sought for, and never before found—the only natural agent that can "administer to a mind diseased." In cases of neurslagia, headache, vertigo, pain in the nerves of the face, and the various train of nervous affections, it will produce a cure in an astonishing short period of time; and it will also remove depression, excitement, a tendency to blush, rostlessness, sleeplessness, dislike of society, incapacity for study or businers, loss of memory, confusion, giddiness, blood to the head, melanchely, mental debility, hysteria, indecision, wretchedness, thoughts of self-destruction, fear of insanity, &c. It will increase and restore the appetite, strengthen the emaciated, renew the health of those who have destroyed it, induce continued cheerfulness and equanitary of spirits, and prolong life THE MEDICAL JOURNAIS

Have not, in a single instance that has been authenticated, given their sanction to any other preparation for the above complaints. It has, in many violent and desperate cases, effected radical curea, after patients had been abandoned, and their condition pronounced hopeless by modical practioners of high professional character.

My office having been in a store where this cordial was kept for sale for over three years, and my opportunities of judging of its effects somewhat numerous, the vastly increasing demand, and that without a single advertisement, tells for itself. I have seen a case of weakness, which had resisted all treatment for over the perions a fair candidate for suicide,

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMpanion—By Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, Professor of Diseases of Women. Twentieth edition. 16mo, pp. 258. Price, 31. Years of suffering, of physical and mental anguish, to many an affectionate wife, and pecuniary difficulties to the husband, might have been spared by a timely possession of this work. It is intended especially for the married, or those contemplating marriage, as it discloses important secrets which should be known to them particularly.

Here, also, every female—the wife, the mother—the one either budding into womanhood, or the other in the decline of years, in whom nature contemplates an important change, can discover the causes, symptoms, and the most efficient remedies, and the most certain mode of cure, in every complaint to which her sex is subject.

(Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Dayton, Ohio)

Dr. A. M. MAURICRAU, 129 Liberty street,

My Dear Sir—My wife has been perceptibly sinking for some three years or more, in consequence of her great anguish and suffering some months before and during her confinement—every successive one more and more debilitating and prestrating her, putting her life in imminent danger, and which was, on the last occasion, despaired of. I supposed this state of things was inevitable, and resigned myself to meet the worst. At this time, (now about two months,) I heard your book highly spoken of as containing some matters reaching my case. On its recipit and perusal, I cannot express to you the relief it afforded my distressed mind, and the joy its pages imparted to my wife, on learning that the great discovery of M. M. Dassmeaux provided a remedy. It opened a prospect to me which I little concived was possible. But for this, ere another year would have passed over my head, in all human probability my wife would have been in her grave, and my children motherless.

It is, of course, impracticable to convey more fully the recipit and perusal, incannot, playedan and surgeon, 42 Meade and at the publishing office, 129 Lib
